ATEX

ATEX

Regulations and best practice when working in areas with risk of dust or gas explosions.

Does your company have areas with explosive atmosphere?

Then it is mandatory, that company and employees know about ATEX and the ATEX directives. At the end of the day the employer is responsible for the workplace safety and that the employees are properly instructed.

This ATEX kursus walks you through the regulations and guidelines according to the ATEX directives, which is a common EU legislation.

With this course your employees will get the necessary competencies for work in ATEX zones.
